

PARTIES TO CHARGE ON 1916 CANDIDATE ON BOTH TICKETS

Republicans and Progressives
Plan Harmony in Chicago Conventions.

By P. T. REILHAN.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Harmony in Chicago in June next is now regarded by Republicans and Progressives as a settled fact, or the next thing to one. It is exceptional to find a Republican or Progressive who any longer thinks it necessary to consider the chances of trouble.

The two parties, they say, are going to get together in Chicago and the result is going to be satisfactory to them and to the country. The candidate may be Theodore Roosevelt, or it may be Charles E. Hughes, or Elihu Root, or any one of a dozen other men, but he will be a union candidate. Republicans and Progressives alike expect the split of 1912 by any chance will be continued in the Presidential campaign of 1916.

"There will be union, of course," Republicans say.

"Of course," is the Progressive answer.

How Long Will Union Last?

It is not until they begin to discuss details that any divergence of opinion comes to the fore. The eventual union of the parties on a Presidential candidate, which is the common desire, calls for preliminaries. The politicians in both parties are trying to figure just what will happen and how it will be brought about. A question of great interest to Republicans is whether the union contemplated in Chicago will be for this campaign only or whether it is to be a closing for good of the breach of four years ago.

The general Republican view is that the coming Progressive National Convention is likely to be the last one to be held under that party emblem.

Republicans hope the fraternalism, which is expected in Chicago six weeks hence, will close up for good the breach of 1912. They think the Progressive party merged back into its original Republican elements.

A great many Progressives, probably a majority of them, undoubtedly are in sympathy with that wish. They want to be Republicans again, as they always have been at least for this year's campaign. They want to be accepted terms of reunion must be acceptable terms.

Speculating On Policy.

There is not a little speculation among Republicans as to what the policy of the leaders on both sides will be on reaching Chicago. It is supposed there will be parties between the two parties preliminary to final action. But nothing certain is known. If the Republican and Progressive leaders, or either of them, have a fixed program, they have not disclosed it to their rank and file.

Some fear is expressed in Republican circles that the Progressives may go ahead and nominate Colonel Roosevelt out of hand in the hope to club the Republican convention into similar action. Such a course, it is said, would be unfortunate, as it would be certain to arouse Republican resentment and make more difficult the task of the party pacifiers.

Colonel Roosevelt, whose ability as a politician no Republican questions, is relied on to prevent any rash action on the part of his followers, some of whom are sure to be ultra-sealious in his cause.

Conference Is Suggested.

The proper and reasonable thing, it is said, would be for both conventions on their organization to appoint conference committees with a view to mutual agreement on candidates and the adoption of harmonious platforms.

There is another question the answer to which will be given in Chicago. It is, will the union candidate for President run as a Republican only or will he run on two tickets, Republican and Progressive? It is supposed the two parties will be continued as separate political entities in the Presidential campaign, but there is lack of absolute knowledge on the subject.

It is agreed generally the two conventions which will meet in Chicago in June 7, will not be second in point of interest to any that have been held in a generation. They are expected to attract great crowds to the convention city. The Progressive convention will be the smaller of the two, but the Progressives say they will have an army of Roosevelt boosters present from all parts of the country.

There won't be many Republican politicians of a sizable caliber who will not attend the Republican convention either as delegates or as interested spectators at history in the making.

BURGLAR RANSACKS MAURY SCHOOL DESKS

Oiler On Southland Also Reports
Loss of Jewelry.

Burglars entered the Maury School building at Twelfth place and B street northeast early this morning and ransacked the building. Desks were turned inside out, but it is not known whether anything is missing.

Edward Mears, oiler on the steamer Southland, reported to the police this morning that a solitaire diamond ring valued at $20 and a gold watch valued at $20 were stolen from him on the trip up river last night.

Government Urges Use of Lighter Weight Paper

Use of lighter weight paper to relieve the present stringency in paper-making materials is urged by the Department of Agriculture in a bulletin issued today.

The bulletin says that since the Bureau of Chemistry began to advocate this policy for the Federal Government many publishers of journals of large circulation and of important books, and many users of wrapping papers, have adopted the plan. It is believed that there is ample opportunity for additional saving in this way, the bulletin says.

Chile Navy Transport Brings Nitrate Cargo

BALTIMORE, April 17.—The Chilean naval transport Maipo is anchored here. Guns were left behind in Chile for fear of breaking fire.

Because of the scarcity of ships, the plan of sending the transport here both as a trading ship and a freighter was decided on. The ship brought a $600,000 cargo of nitrate of soda from Valparaiso for a New York firm.

HOME BILLS FOR D. C. DISCUSSED BY FORUM

Constitutional Amendment to Give Washington Votes in Congress, Governor, and Statehood.

Self-government for the District of Columbia by different methods was discussed by the principal speakers before the Grover Cleveland Forum at the Public Library yesterday.

Chairman A. J. Driscoll announced that the meeting was for discussion of the Pointexter bill which would give the District a delegate in Congress.

Amending the Federal Constitution as provided in the Chamberlain Joint resolution, however, to allow residents of the District to vote for two Senators and a Congressman, was the subject discussed by Chapin Brown, the first speaker.

E. W. Oyster also diverged from the announced subject of self-government which he has laid before the "Peworth Citizens' Association."

Mr. Oyster's Plan.

This plan would provide a governor for the District and five commissioners, all elective, and in addition five commissioners named by the President. The governor and commissioners would divide authority now exercised by the District Commissioners.

A delegate in the House also is provided. The franchise is conferred upon all persons over twenty-one years of age, with restrictions as to length of residence here and an educational test. The recall and initiative and the secret ballot are also specified.

Mr. Oyster in arguing for his plan declared that he did not oppose either the Pointexter bill or the Chamberlain resolution, but that the extent of self-government provided under either was "insufficient when compared to what the District ought to have."

He added that the United States "appear as hypocrites before other countries of the world, by claiming to stand for self-government while denying it to the people who live in the Nation's Capital."

Those who have been here long enough know," he said in concluding, "that Congress has never taken the interest it ought to take in the District of Columbia. I criticize them not because they don't give the time and attention to the District that it deserves, but because they hold onto their power over the District and fail to properly exercise it."

Statehood Proposed.

Chapin Brown, in discussing the Chamberlain resolution, declared that amendment of the Constitution would not be necessary to provide conditional representation in Congress and self-government for the District.

He suggested instead that under section 2, Article IV of the Constitution the District could be admitted as a State with certain restrictions.

As each hour gave the time and attention to the District that it deserves, but because they hold onto their power over the District and fail to properly exercise it."

"The ballot is an instrument," he declared, "that the Progressives have democracy throughout the world has come in succession to different groups of persons. As each has acquired it, laws in favor of that group have been put on the statute books."

E. J. Ward announced that Secretary of War Baker would make his first public address in Washington before the forum next Sunday.

The forum named the Rev. Henry Jackson to carry its greetings to the Southern Educational Conference in New Orleans this year. President Driscoll was designated to represent the forum at a similar gathering in New York.

Miss Just's aunt has been Queen Maud's royal dentist for years, and when she retires the appointment is to go to the Minneapolis girl.

DAILY SUNDAY SETS MARK AT SERVICES

Largest Audience and Greatest Number of Trail Hitters
Mark Day in Campaign.

BALTIMORE, April 17.—Billy Sunday broke the Baltimore record for trail hitters yesterday. The morning attendance also was a record for a morning service. The day's Tabernacle trail hitters numbered 1,000, and this figure does not include the converts at other services conducted by members of the Sunday party.

Among the evening trail hitters were three of Mayor Preston's children.

In the forenoon 17,000 people, a typical Palm Sunday church-going throng, constituted the largest of the morning services for the Tabernacle; for the evening service the Tabernacle was packed by 5:30 o'clock, 2,000 people being accommodated under the low roof—about fully 7,000 had to stand—and a throng estimated at 5,000 could not gain admittance.

Sunday plunged into his sermon at 6:00 o'clock on the text: "How Shall We Escape If We Neglect So Great Salvation" (Hebrews 2:3). He wound up at 8 o'clock with a graphic story of a drowning man, pursued suddenly, stooped, buried, and a warning line that seemed almost to swing like a cloth the air—and the trail-hitting began.

No Mention of Palm Sunday.

No reference was made by Sunday in any of his three sermons to the fact that the day was Palm Sunday, but the festival was called to mind by bits of palm which decorated the lapsels of some of the men in the audience, which they had obtained at religious services elsewhere; by the more than usual direct appearance of the throngs and by the subtle change in the spiritual atmosphere of the day, marking the beginning of the Holy Week of the church.

At the morning service Daniel Baker, chairman of the local executive committee, launched officially the movement to collect the free will offering for the moral life of mankind in the Christian religion. The religion of God, not votes for women, is the way to teach morals.

Still, the Catholic Church has no objection to women voting. An intelligent woman, one who brings up a family or teaches school, surely has more right to vote than a corner loafer who sells his vote to the highest bidder."

Mrs. Howard Gould to Educate Chinese Girls

PEKING, April 17.—Mrs. Howard Gould is in Peking to establish a school for Chinese girls in which the Montessori method will be used.

Mrs. Gould recently had an interview with the minister of education, and is co-operating with a number of missionaries in educational work. She will finance the new school, which will serve as a model for Chinese teachers.

Sermons Are Impressive.

The morning sermon was "Gethsemane," and it brought 513 persons up the trail. The afternoon service was for men only, and Sunday's sermon on "After Death the Judgment" made as deep an impression that 446 men and youths professed conversion.

But it was the evening service that really climaxed the day for the evangelist, and they celebrated it by going to Cambridge, Md., to be the guests of the Governor and Mrs. Emerson C. Harrington. The party left here at 7 o'clock this morning on the Washington, Baltimore and Annapolis Electric Line for Annapolis, where they will board the steamer Governor Thomas for the trip across the bay.

"I Hope That Other Mothers May Learn Its Value as I Have"

GRATEFUL PRAISE
MEDICINE

Writing from Rock Island, Illinois, a grateful mother says: "I miss Father John's Medicine when I am out of it more than anything else from my medicine chest. I have it on hand summer and winter. I give it to my two children whose pictures are shown. I hope that other mothers may learn to know its value as I have. (Signed) Mrs. G. H. Biehl, 1004 Eleventh Ave.

Thousands of mothers know from experience the value of Father John's Medicine at this time of year. It is all pure and wholesome nourishment which the system easily takes up and changes into fighting strength to ward off disease. Because it does not contain alcohol for dangerous drugs Father John's Medicine is safe for children as well as older people. Get what you call for.—Adv.

Midgets Married Under "Big Top"

Lion Roars Accompaniment To Calliope At Strange Ceremony—Freaks As Witnesses.

NEW YORK, April 17.—While the lion roared an accompaniment to a calliope's wedding march, Francis Short and Miss Elsie Reinhold were made the pair are midgets with a big circus and were married in the center of the ring with two witnesses on one pair of legs—the double-bodied man performing the function.

A giant six times the size of the bridegroom was best man and the bride came only to the knee of the bridesmaid's giantess.

The happy pair were wished well by glass-eaters, sword-swallowers, long-whiskered men, bearded ladies, Circasian girls, fat boys and a few undistinguished by physical peculiarity.

The groom is a 75-pounder and the bride weighs but sixty-nine.

PRIEST CALLS SUFFS' ACTIVITY INIQUITOUS

The Rev. J. H. McMahon Says
Catholic Women Should Fight It.

NEW YORK, April 17.—Woman suffrage is a movement the Catholic Church, and particularly Catholic women, should fight against, the Rev. J. H. McMahon said to a large congregation in the Church of Our Lady of Lourdes.

Franchising on the subject, "Suffrage and Morals," Father McMahon said that the church had no objection to the idea of women voting, but that the suffrage movement as at present conducted was one to combat.

"Catholic women should organize to counteract any foothold it may gain, any inroads it may make among their number," he said. "The movement now aims at an individualism that will lead to feminism and lax standards of morals. It will result in the degradation of women rather than their uplifting."

"This is an iniquitous movement of individualism. It will never reform the world to give the ballot to women, as they contend. The only panacea for the moral life of mankind is the Christian religion. The religion of God, not votes for women, is the way to teach morals."

Still, the Catholic Church has no objection to women voting. An intelligent woman, one who brings up a family or teaches school, surely has more right to vote than a corner loafer who sells his vote to the highest bidder."

"SWISS NAVY" MAY CEASE TO BE A JOKE

Government Will Consider Plan
To Buy Ships to Insure Food.

Killed Six for Revenge, Then Ends His Own Life

SASKATOON, Sask., April 17.—John Micheluk, brother of Mrs. Prokop Manchuk, murdered the six members of the Manchuk family at their farm house near here recently and then killed himself, according to the verdict of the coroner's jury, which completed its investigation at Wakaw yesterday.

Evidence was produced which showed that Micheluk had quarreled with his brother-in-law, for whom he worked. That he had threatened revenge, and that he had purchased a rifle with which he wiped out the family.

ARMY BILL TO PASS SENATE TOMORROW

Indications Are That Plan for Reorganization Will Soon Go to Conference.

The preparedness movement will have moved a long step further ahead by tomorrow night. The Senate by that time is expected to have completed the passage of the army reorganization bill.

While it is possible that final action will be deferred until Wednesday or even later, it is now only a question of hours until the bill is passed by the Senate and then is sent to conference where the difference between the Senate and House can be thrashed out.

The Senate will begin voting on amendments tomorrow afternoon and discussion, by virtue of an agreement, will be under the five-minute rule.

The bill is being amended in important particulars from the form in which it was reported by the committee. But it is being strengthened in some respects, rather than weakened.

The adoption of a vocational education amendment is looked on as a provision calculated to encourage enlistment.

One of the struggles ahead in connection with the army bill involves the proposition of increasing the regular army to 250,000 men, instead of the figure fixed by the committee. Senator Brandegee says that the minimum be still further increased above the point the committee fixed it.

After the army bill an effort will be made to consider the goods roads bill, but the friends of rural credits will press that measure instead.

Morgenthau's Son Weds Impersonator of Napoleon

NEW YORK, April 17.—Henry Morgenthau, Jr., came back to the United States from Turkey with his father, Ambassador Henry Morgenthau, expressly to wed Miss Edith Patman, the girl who has been his sweetheart ever since he was old enough to have one.

The wedding is to be performed today at the Patman home.

Miss Patman has long been known in New York society circles for her share in amateur theatricals. Miss Patman bears a striking resemblance to the Emperor Napoleon, and has interpreted that character more than once.

Miss Patman's father is chairman of the Haritan woolen mills and the Somerset manufacturing company of New York.

Thousands of Dollars Worth of Lumber Lost Near Richmond.

RICHMOND, April 17.—Destructive forest fires which have been raging several days in Chesterfield county, near Richmond, and in Prince George and Dinwiddie counties, in the vicinity of Petersburg and Hopewell, were reported today to be well under control, the high wind which had fanned them having subsided.

Sparks from sawmills and passing locomotives are supposed to have started them.

Timber valued at thousands of dollars was destroyed. Similar fires in eastern North Carolina are also under control. There was no loss of life.

MY TIRED FEET ACHED FOR "TIZ"

Let your sore, swollen, aching feet spread out in a bath
of "Tiz."

Just take your shoes off and then put those weary, shoe-crinkled, aching, burning, corn-pestered, bunion-tortured feet of yours in a "Tiz" bath. Your feet will wriggle with joy; they'll look up at you and almost talk and then they'll take another dive in that "Tiz" bath.

When your feet feel like lumps of lead—all tired out—just try "Tiz." It's grand—it's glorious. Your feet will dance with joy; also you will find all pain gone from corns, callouses, and bunions.

There's nothing like "Tiz." It's the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause foot torture.

Get a 5-cent box of "Tiz" at any drug or department store—don't wait. Ah how glad your feet get; how comfortable your shoes feel. You can wear shoes a size smaller if you desire.—Adv.
